In Memoriam

Patricia Lynn Dowdy

MARCH 29, 1955—AUGUST 13, 1971

Pat was one of the beautiful roses in the Garden of Youth. She radiated her zest for living through her smiling eyes that all the other flowers loved dearly.

One day, the Gardener suddenly plucked her from the garden, and the other flowers asked the Gardener why. He replied that He needed her in the Garden of Eternal Life, that others might enjoy her beauty. He told them that the perfect garden needed roses, as well as the little violets, and the lilies that grow tall.

The other roses and the lilies that grow tall said, "But we love her and we miss her." The Gardener replied, "But all of you must be transplanted to have eternal life. You will not know what hour I will come to take you, but be not afraid; believe in me. I tell you that the Eternal Garden is in the most beautiful and peaceful place; and whether you are a rose, or a violet, or a lily that grows tall, all there will have smiling eyes like Pat's."

The young flowers had faith in the Gardener and believed in Him, and again they were happy, knowing that Pat was there.

Time

You would measure time the measurless and the immeasurable.

You would adjust your conduct and even direct the course of your spirit according to hours and seasons.

Of time you would make a stream upon whose bank you would sit and watch its flowing.

Yet the timeless in you is aware of life's timelessness,

And knows that yesterday is but today's memory and tomorrow is today's dream.

And that that which sings and contemplates in you is still dwelling within the bounds of that first moment which scattered the stars into space.

Who among you does not feel that his power to love is boundless?

And yet who does not feel that very love, though boundless, encompassed within the centre of his being, and moving not from love thought to love thought, nor from love deeds to other love deeds?

And is not time even as love is, undivided and spaceless?

But if in your thought you must measure time into seasons, let each season encircle all the other seasons,

And let today embrace the past with remembrance and the future with longing.

Superintendent of Schools

Mr. Charles Darnell, a former principal at Clifton Forge High School, is one of the finest superintendents that the area has had in recent years. He has shown himself to be fair, dependable, and cooperative to faculty, students, and parents alike.

1971-72 was Mr. Sam Wolfenbarger's last year as principal of C.F.H.S. He has served in that capacity for four years, before which he was a math instructor and assistant principal.

Students who attended C.F.H.S. during those years will never forget his unflagging spirit and devotion, and though there were times when they did not see eye to eye, they will be sorry to see him go.

The language department at C.F.H.S. is composed of English and Spanish. The teachers in the English Department help students with grammar, creative writing, and literature. The Spanish Department helps students in speaking and translating the language as well as introducing them to the Spanish culture. Both courses enable college-bound students fulfill requirement for higher education.

Clifton Forge High School's Science Department is by far a great challenge to the students who participate in it. With outstanding teachers and equipment, C.F.H.S. provides an excellent background for one of the areas which mystifies mankind.

The department added a new member this year, Mr. Sheltman, who replaced Mr. Sutherland after the fourth six weeks.

Mr. Sutherland introduced the new physics class. He also taught chemistry and advanced biology. Also included in the faculty of the Science Department are Mrs. Lauren Sarver, who teaches biology, and Mr. Eugene Trammel who teaches Science 8.

Department Trains Future Drivers,

In the health room, knowledge is gained concerning the new medical age in which we live. One of the interesting subjects which was studied this year was the course on drugs. The fine staff of health teachers includes Miss Barbara Strong, Mr. Ed Scott, Mr. Bill Lewter, and Miss Alma Watts.

Drivers' Education prepares C.F.H.S. sophomores for the future. Here driving skills and experience are attained. This course provides students with information needed in gaining their permits. They are trained under the guidance of Miss Alma Watts.

And, of course, physical education must not be left out, for the stamina that is built on the field or in the gym is invaluable in our everyday lives.

Mr. Strong applies trigonometry to the plotting of a circle.

The Math Department at C.F.H.S. strives to teach students the understanding, skill, and reasoning of a problem. The courses in the department range from general and business math to algebra, geometry, and trigonometry.

The department offers courses, such as business and consumer math, which enable students to have a general understanding of math that they can apply to their individual vocations. The advanced courses help students to prepare for college and to gain a greater understanding of mathematical procedures.

The highlight of the year for the math department was the Math Fair, in which the students designed various projects pertaining to mathematics. The winning projects were made by Leigh Ann Tucker and Mary Gray Dellinger.

General attentiveness is a component part of any math class.

The individual members of the Industrial Arts and Mechanical Drawing classes completed another successful year as they gained valuable experience by completing projects and drawing plans. These courses, under the instruction of Mr. Conley and Mr. Graham, give students a chance to use their mechanical abilities and to develop skills.

Under the instruction of Mrs. Gretel Anderson, the home economics classes learn cooking and sewing procedures in preparation for the future. One of the objectives of the Future Homemakers of America, a club associated with the department, is "to participate in projects for the family and for the community."

Events of the past and present, along with facts about the problems of the world, helped to make the classes in the Social Studies Department interesting as well as informative. Under the guidance of Mr. VanLear, Mr. Buzzard, and Mrs. VanLear, the students learned such things as how to file income tax returns and took part in campaigns in George Kostel's bid for the lieutenant-governorship of Virginia. The senior government class held a mock trial, complete with videotape filming.

Mock elections were held on a school-wide basis, and projects and booklets completed a busy year for the department.

The Business Department at Clifton Forge High School is very fortunate to have Mrs. Clift and Miss Mansfield as instructors. Courses, such as typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, office practice, and general business are taught in order to provide students with the valuable knowledge required to become successful in the business world. Because of the rapid expansion of the business world today, there is a great demand for experienced business men and women, and Clifton Forge High School is doing its part to supply them.

Mr. Sheltman keeps a watchful eye on his Sociology class.

In order to understand world problems today, one must first explore the problems of the individual. At Clifton Forge High School, two social science courses are offered with that purpose in mind. Sociology, taught by Mr. Sutherland and later by Mr. Sheltman, studies man's group behavior and interaction. Psychology, taught by Mr. Strong, helps man's individual behavior be more clearly understood. These two classes were quite popular this year, showing the increasing concern of youth for world problems and man's relationship with man.

Art students are busily working with clay.

C.F.H.S. is fortunate to have Miss Becky Jett for its new art instructor. This year the art department reached a higher level of activity than ever before, partly because of the interest of the classes, but mostly because of Miss Jett's energy. Work throughout the year, all the way from weaving to sculpturing, culminated in a three-day art show in April, at which the public was surprised and delighted that such talent can be found at C.F.H.S.

The band is another means of self-expression for high school students, and Mr. Larry Bilger's band this year was no different. A band member strives to be the best that he can be and yet he learns to be a part of the whole.

At Clifton Forge High School, development of talent and enrichment of culture are high ideals in the Fine Arts department.

Under the leadership of the President, Paula Craft, and the guidance of the advisor, Mr. James Pederson, the Student Council of C.F.H.S. had a busy and rewarding year.

The first event of the year was Homecoming, with the S.C.A. in charge of the parade and the hall decorating contest. In November, they sent delegates to the District Convention at Alleghany County High School and later that month they sponsored their annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. The S.C.A. also sponsored several "sock hops" during the basketball season.

The year's major project was the glass drive. Three tons of glass was collected during the drive.

Tommy Drumheller, Tuck Crabill, and Landon Simpson were our delegates to the state convention. Through their work, the S.C.A. strove to unite the students and faculty.

As always, the Beta Club of CFHS had an outstanding year of activities. The highlight of the school season came as the club sent representatives to "Klassroom Kwiz" for seven consecutive weeks. Our panel consisted of Kathy Gochenour, Bill Wilcher, and Margaret Warren, each of whom brought honor to our school.

Earlier, the Beta Club also held its annual induction "tapping", initiating new members from the Junior and Senior classes. The new members and their parents were guests at a reception held in the cafeteria that afternoon.

Joan Chaplin and Bobbie Detwiler attended the state convention in Roanoke.

Fourth row: Mike Wilcher, Jerome Allen, Glenn Perry, Peter Fields, Mr. VanLear, Mr. Pederson.

The Hi-Y club under the leadership of Bill Wilcher was very active this year. During December they sponsored the annual Christmas dance with music by "Liberation." They also participated in a community project by giving "get-out-to-vote" pamphlets just before the election for lieutenant governor. Many members also attended the District Conference at Bath County.

Through their community projects and school activities, the Hi-Y is continually promoting its Christian ideals and standards.

Fourth row: Christie Conner, Iris Martin, Donna Conner, Brenda Deaton, Oretha Brown.

With service as its main goal and fun as an added objective, the Tri-Hi-Y members set forth to fulfill a full and challenging year.

Early in the fall, the members observed Hi-Y Week by making posters showing what the Tri-Hi-Y has done, and distributed them throughout the school. Later the girls collected money to help the Mothers March of Dimes and gave a generous donation to World Service to help less fortunate Hi-Y clubs throughout the world.

But all was not work, as the members who attended conferences during the year well know. Several members traveled to Bath County High School to take part in the annual district conference, while Susan Carpenter and Betty Kibler represented the club at Massanetta Springs for a week of camp and officer training.

The success of the club was due in large part to the work of its president, Iris Martin, and the watchful eye of its sponsor, Mrs. Jean Clift.

This year, under the leadership of president Kim Mays, the Jr. Tri-Hi-Y served the community and school in several ways. During the first half of the school year, the members sold Christmas cards which enabled them to prepare a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family in the community.

During the last half of the school year, the girls gave an American flag to each homeroom and made plans to attend the three-day conference of the district Jr. Hi-Y.

With its Christian ideals, the club is certainly an asset to the C.F.H.S. curriculum.

As a result of interest and cooperation among the members and sponsors of the school newspaper staff, the Mountaineer was published monthly. It provided the students and faculty with sports news, general school news, and feature articles, including "the student of the month", new this year, as well as gossip, editorials, and essays.

Members of the staff worked very hard to prepare the monthly issues of the Mountaineer, and they should be commended for their diligence and dedication.

Issues of the paper were sold during homeroom periods. Here Gary and Laura make their rounds.

As always, the Future Homemakers of America was busy preparing its members for the role they will someday play in the home. With needlework and handicrafts as their main projects, the members enjoyed their meetings by knitting and crocheting such useful articles as sweaters, tams, and pocketbooks.

The year was climaxed in the spring when the members showed their versatility and creativity by designing and making useful, decorative items for the home. These were displayed at the school, to everyone's delight.

The Business Staff places posters through the school to promote annual sales.

During the year, each staff member donated much of his or her time to the successful publication of the 1972 edition of the Alleghanian.

The lay-out staff is busy working to meet an up-coming deadline.

The happiest memories that one has are those that he can share with another, and preserving these memories of the past year has been the year-long aim of the Alleghanian staff. With Mrs. Morris and Miss Jett as sponsors, and Margaret Warren as Editor, the staff worked to capture the fun and excitement of the year.

To earn money, the group worked the basketball concession stands and sold "Mountaineer" cushions. Not too infrequently, a photographer was to be seen stalking the halls or keeping pace with sports events and club activities.

Deadlines were hard to meet and workshops plentiful, but we now may look back upon the year with a sense of accomplishment.

Marchin' Mounties Have A Great Year

THE CLIFTON FORGE HIGH SCHOOL BAND IN CONCERT FORMATION

Each year the band elects four officers to be their student representatives. This year's officers performed their duties well as they helped Mr. Bilger plan and carry out many of the band's activities. The officers for this year were as follows:

President	Christie Conner
Vice-president	.Debbie Campbell
Secretary	.Sally Finestone
Treasurer	Donna Kimberlin

Determination, cooperation, frustration were characteristic of the CFHS bandmen as they began August practices in preparation for the upcoming football season. Their hours of practice were evident as the band presented ten entertaining half-time performances.

Under Mr. Bilger's direction, the band prepared and presented an inspiring Christmas Concert in cooperation with the newly organized choir.

This year, for the first time, the band adopted a merit system which allows each student to work for and earn his band letter. A merit is given for time spent in band activities outside of sixth period class.

Doughnut sales, candy sales, car washes, and contributions made possible the band's two-day Winchester trip. The band competed in two parades and a concert and placed well in each.

The band ended their busy year with the presentation of a delightful Spring Concert at which they honored their outstanding musicians. CFHS should be proud of their 'Marching Mountaineers'.

Chorus is Newest Addition to School

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Sandy
Ithaca College, B.M.; Syracuse University; Youngstown State University; Michigan State University, M.M.; Chorus

This year C.F.H.S. has added to its list of activities something new — a choir. Being in its first year, our choir has had to start from scratch in order to earn a place in our school and community. Rising early every morning during the year, Mrs. Sandy and her students have worked to make themselves known. They put on Christmas and Spring concerts which were shared with the band. They went Christmas caroling which helped make the season a little cheerier. They also sent representatives for a weekend of learning at Regional Choir.

Though the choir has had its share of trials and tribulations, it hopes it has started a choir that our community can be proud of and also one that can continue to be heard in the auditorium of C.F.H.S.

The 1971 football team had a very successful year, completing the season with an outstanding 8-2 record. The team was composed of mostly underclassmen with only 5 graduating seniors, who provided excellent leadership, which is so necessary for any team. Gary Bowen, Bobby Ratliff, and Chip Woodyard served as captains. Gary Bowen, James Thomas, Danny Megginson, William Brown, Gilbert Davis, C. W. Linkswiler, and Chip Woodyard received All-District team recognition.

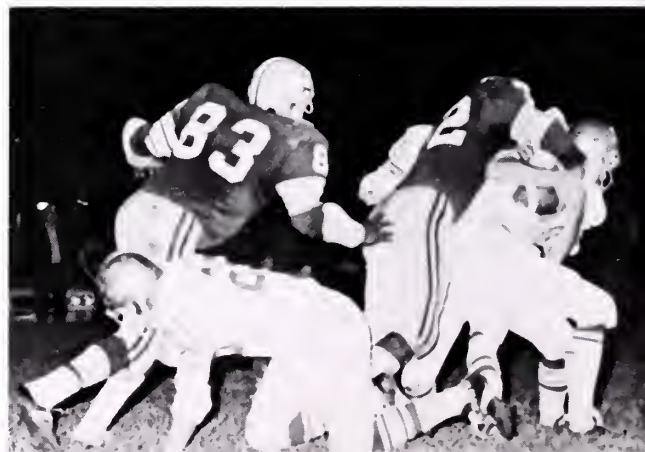

The season ended against a very powerful Covington team in the Little Brown Jug game. The result was a lopsided victory for Covington somewhat difficult to explain.

Nevertheless, the team this year was outstanding and showed great courage and pride. Next year promises to be just as fine, as a number of players will return.

The Clifton Forge High School Junior Varsity football team has the job of giving experience to future varsity players. The 1971 season provided this much-needed experience.

Even though the team had a losing season with a record of 2-4-1, they had a successful year in gaining experience. The season started slowly, but ended very strongly with defense being the strong point of the team.

The most successful games were the defeat of Alleghany County with a score of 8-6, avenging a 12-0 loss to them earlier in the season, and an 8-8 tie with the Covington Cougars.

Coach Donald Buzzard provided the leadership for the J.V. team. Some outstanding J.V. players were Tussy Humphries, Brian Woods, Terry Nicely, Alan Wills, and Sammy Nicastro.

Mounties' Season Sparked with Highlights

Early in November, the members of the varsity basketball team began working and practicing for the upcoming 1971-72 season. The results were good. Their hard-fought losses only seemed to highlight the exciting wins they collected.

Led by scoring of Gilbert Davis, William Brown, and James Thomas, the Mounties tallied two easy victories over their rival, the Alleghany Colts. In another game, they maintained a lead over the first-ranked William Byrd team until the final quarter of the game. The home Covington game had to be the most exciting game of the year, for the Mounties with remarkable poise and calmness went into triple over-time to overcome their traditional arch rivals.

Tournament action gave the fans quite a thrill as the Mounties again were the victors against the Cougars, only to be stopped by powerful William Byrd. Nevertheless, they finished a fine year by coming out fourth in the tournament championship and placing fifth in the Blue Ridge District regular season.

The 1971-72 basketball team was one of which Clifton Forge High School students may certainly be proud.

The J.V.'s had a sensational year under the talented guidance of Coach Colby Trammel. The Jayvees with their splendid coach are to be congratulated for their superb efforts.

The "Baby Mountaineers" compiled an outstanding record by winning sixteen and losing two. This record earned them the championship of the Blue Ridge District in regular season play. The season was highlighted by the Junior Varsity tournament held in the Clifton Forge armory. Here the champs suffered their third loss to the Addison Bulldogs in the finals.

Eighth Grade Team Has Even Season

Coach J.C. Watson's eighth grade basketball team may have lacked somewhat in talent and size, but they seemed to make up for that loss with tremendous hustle and desire to win. Although smaller than all of the teams they played, they were able to finish the season with a 5-5 win-loss record.

The most disappointing game of the year had to be the double-overtime loss to Alleghany, but they jumped back on their feet to defeat the Covington team after being twenty points down early in the contest.

The boys learned a valuable lesson in sportsmanship and team effort by being on the team this year, and are looking ahead to next year's basketball season.

The girls had no trouble in defeating three of the other four teams in their league. Their best offensive game came at the expense of James River, as the Mountainettes put 53 points on the board. Hard work and determination paid off as the girls brought home the second-place district trophy.

The Junior Mountainettes had an exceptional season, having only one loss, their first game of the year to James River. This was the first year of scholastic play for each girl on the team, but they played remarkably well. Their record earned them first place in the five-team Girl's Basketball district. Paulette Johnson was high scorer for the team with a total of 108 points. This team will develop into fine Varsity team members.

The Clifton Forge wrestling team has shown improvement each year since the program was started four years ago. This year, the overall team record was three wins and nine losses, and the competition this year was greater than ever before.

The team was composed of mostly underclassmen and one senior, Steve Albright, who was selected captain of the team. Steve showed great leadership for the younger wrestlers. His overall record for the season was twenty wins and two losses, placing first in the district, second in the regional, and third in the state.

The wrestling team is looking forward to next year with the return of several young wrestlers, who gained valuable experience this year.

Although the track team was young and inexperienced this spring — the majority were freshmen — the year ended in success, under the coaching of Mr. Buzzard and Mr. Krol. The J.V. season closed with the team winning the district championship.

Greg Megginson was the year's outstanding runner, with good performances in the 100, 220, and 880 relay. Dennis Duff was the year's outstanding field events performer, with efforts in the long jump and triple jump.

With such a young team, the future years seem quite bright for the C.F.H.S. track team.

A great deal of time, perspiration, and effort paid off well as the girls' track team whipped into shape this spring. Under their coach Miss Watts, the girls learned techniques in running and field events, while building up their stamina.

After several meets, such as one at Buffalo Gap High School, the team felt ready for the regional meet at Roanoke College. There Carol Van Lear won third place for the high jump, and Linda Powell won first place in the discus throw. Three members of the team, Carol Van Lear, Sally Jo Tucker, and Linda Powell, went on to represent the school at the state meet, also at Roanoke College.

Third row: Tommy Slusser, Mike Layton, Peter Fields, Landon Simpson, David Jeffries, Dusty Walker, Steve Backels, Mercer Johnson.

The Clifton Forge High School baseball team has certainly had a winning season. Under the direction of Coach J.C. Watson, they compiled an overall season record of eleven wins, seven losses, with two games called before a winner could be declared. One game with Bath County lasted for 22 innings, almost 6 hours.

After such a successful regular season, they went on to become Blue Ridge District Tournament Champions. Jimmy Saunders, David Bradley, and Chip Woodyard were named to the All-District team. C.F.H.S. can be proud of its outstanding baseball team.

J.V. Cheerleaders Boost Spirit

Rebecca Linkswiler, Kris Backels, Beth Peters, Martha Peters, Joanne Unroe, Lisa Bryan, Sherry Walker, Mauri King, Robin Downey.

The junior varsity cheerleading squad, sponsored by Miss Mansfield, was quite active again this year. The girls underwent grueling hours of practice during the summer months as well as long into the school year.

These active girls encouraged team members on to victory and increased the school spirit as they led the cheering sections during junior varsity football games, junior varsity basketball games, and several wrestling matches, alternating with the varsity squad.

Being a cheerleader isn't all work and not play, however. Here some varsity cheerleaders clown around with some members of the Northern Virginia Chamber Orchestra.

From the first practice session in the summer until the last basketball game, the C.F.H.S. varsity cheerleaders worked hard to promote school and team spirit. During the summer the girls attended cheerleading camp at Ferrum College, where they learned new cheers to bring back home, and also shared their own cheers with other squads in the state.

Through the year the cheerleaders kept the spirit high by having pep rallies and hanging posters throughout the school. They sponsored hall decorating contests for the Homecoming and Covington games. The highlight of the year for the girls was the winning of the Blue Ridge District cheerleading trophy.

Math Fair Encourages Student Research

An exhibit displaying the linear program that is used in Algebra.

$X^2+Y=20$; $X=Y^3$, $Y=6$ $X=2$: these, long hours of work, careful planning, diligent research, and fun were some of the components of the newly organized Math Fair now in its second year at C.F.H.S.

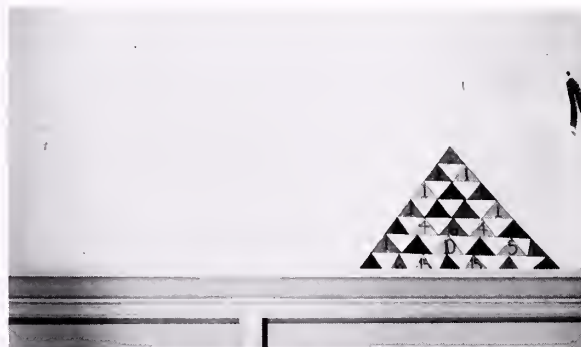

Under the capable assistance of Mrs. Adlis, the Math Fair was labeled a success. Many varieties of projects were exhibited. The winners were as follows: First Place—Leigh Ann Tucker and Mary Gray Dellinger; Second Place—Ellen Taylor and Rebecca Linkswiler; Third Place—Tommy Slusser and Mark Nicely; Honorable Mention—Maūri King and Kris Backels, Linda Simmons.

A Math Fair project concerning graphs.

Rainy Homecoming Results in Victory

HOMECOMING QUEEN
Nancy Rankin

Although ushered in on a damp note, with rain softly drizzling down, the spirits of the C.F.H.S. students were not under the weather as the annual Homecoming festivities got underway with the parade. The floats entered by the five classes were very attractively designed with various forms of the "Beat Pocahontas" motto.

Following the parade, the mighty Mounties displayed their ability under adverse weather conditions by defeating the Pocahontas Warriors by the score of 12-0.

MAID OF HONOR
Sue Roalf

Highlighting the half-time activities was the crowning of Nancy Rankin as homecoming queen for 1971. Her court consisted of maid of honor Sue Roalf, sophomore attendant Mickie Riddle, freshman attendant Beth Peters, and eighth grade attendant Martha Peters.

The festivities concluded with the Homecoming dance, "To Mounties with Love," sponsored by the sophomore class. Music was furnished by the Notations.

and a "Love-ly" Victory Dance

Each Homecoming game includes extensive half-time festivities presented by the band and majorettes, after which the queen is crowned. Here Bonney Burnside twirls a fire baton.

"Early Frost", a one-act play presented by the C.F.H.S. one-act play group, was performed for the student body on March 16. On March 18, the play achieved an excellent rating at the District Festival, held this year at C.F.H.S. On May 16, "Early Frost" was telecast over a local educational TV station in conjunction with the Roanoke Valley Junior League.

The play centers around two elderly sisters, Louise and Hannah. Hannah has been "removed" for many years since the mysterious disappearance of her best friend Lydia. At the appearance of Alice, the niece of Louise and Hannah, along with the appearance of Lydia's ghost, Louise discovers that Hannah had accidentally killed her friend fifty years before.

Musicians Show Their Talents

In order to show the public just how much they had accomplished in their classes, the band and chorus presented two concerts during the year — one at Christmas, and one in the spring. Very accomplished they showed themselves to be, too, and their performances were indicative of the great amount of work which went into the concerts.

The student body and the city elementary school children were fortunate to have the band and chorus present an abbreviated concert at Christmas time, and even the youngest child there was enchanted by the holiday music.

Seniors Present Mystery-Comedy

On November 19, 1971, the Class of 1972 presented its senior class play entitled Something Secret.

The main action of the play revolves around the Boulevard Hotel Book and Gift Shop and its co-owners, Sylvia Lee (Margaret Warren) and Mable Crane (Christie Conner). An unknown reporter, Grant Terry (Steve Backels) enters the story with a clue to a murder plot connected with the shop. Immediately the girls become alarmed, each believing she is the intended victim. Sylvia is the secret authoress of a book, How To Capture The Man of Your Choice, and she thinks her literary agent, Rose Jordan (Debbie Jo Jenkins) has released her name as authoress, thus causing an irate male to try to kill her because of an unwanted marriage. Mable has recently "captured" a new male, Clifford Newkirk (Bill Hardbarger), by the book's tactics. Then she discovers that Clif knows a Sandra King (Joan Sheets), a lady wrestler hired by Marcella Bender (Nancy Rankin), who is in charge of recreation at the hotel. Mable thinks that her death will be brought about because of this wrestler.

Then everyone gets into the act. Eddie Beach (David Bradley) believes he is to be killed because Nona Pollard (Ellen Sanders), his girlfriend and the elevator operator, is lugging around a mysterious suitcase containing "stolen articles." Velda Stevens (Susan Carpenter), the secretary of well-to-do J. T. Rutledge (Ed Campbell), thinks she is to die because of an accusation she made of a former boyfriend.

At last the danger is over, and the murderer is found to be Sam Fisk, (Steve Chenault), the hotel detective, hired to do away with Rutledge. Everyone relaxes and, incidentally, all of the girls end up with the "Men of their choice."

"Aw, Nona!" says Eddie.

Seniors Combine Past and Present

Everybody's all smiles when it's time for lunch!

On April 27, the seniors of C.F.H.S. boarded buses bound for Winston-Salem, North Carolina with their chaperones Miss Fraley, Mrs. Griggs, Mr. Strong, and Mr. Lewter. After some delay because of bus breakdowns, the group arrived at their first stop, the Reynolds Tobacco Company. Here they received a very interesting tour of the factory, as well as some varied souvenirs. After a welcome lunch, the seniors headed for Old Salem. There, among many other things, they toured such restored buildings as the bakery, the tavern, and several private houses.

After such an exciting day, the seniors were not too tired to eat again in Martinsville. Surely the Class of '72 will long remember the fun-filled educational day.

Country Club Scene for Senior Banquet

After being sung "Happy Birthday" to, Ellen resumes eating (after Fred and Marnie, of course).

On May 30 at 6:30 p.m., the 1972 graduating class of Clifton Forge High School held the annual Senior Banquet at the Alleghany Country Club. Elaine Adams, class president, served as mistress of ceremonies. Mr. Wolfenbarger, principal, gave the invocation. The honored guest for the evening was Miss Margaret VanHorn, who is still a part of the school although she has retired.

Toasts for long life and happiness were given by Micky Duff to the girls, Betty Jo Spinner to the boys, and Linda Waddell to the faculty. Several other seniors toasted members of the class, and the special chorus sang a song under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Sandy.

The banquet will stand in the seniors' memory as an evening of happiness (and good eating)!

Betty Jo toasts the boys.

Seconds!

Faculty members like to eat, too.

Still hungry, Joan?

Juniors and Seniors Find Joy in

A fountain in a park square sets the stage for a romantic Parisian evening.

Imagine yourself walking through the cafes and streets of Paris on a warm spring evening, and you will know what it was like to be at this year's prom. After weeks of fun and work, the Juniors proudly presented The Days of Wine and Roses to the Senior Class.

To portray the French streets, the Juniors painted cafe scenes and small Parisian shops. They added to this effect by creating a park square with a fountain, rose trees, and a love seat. French waitresses served the couples while they danced to the music of the Galaxies of Lynchburg.

As all Paris nights end, so did this one, but it will never end in the memories of the Juniors and Seniors.

The romance begins with the Grand March.

Couples take time to chat.

Like trees, most companies show their age.
So how does a growing company keep young?
With people. Skilled and trained.
Imaginative and motivated.
The best people we can get.
People who want to make Westvaco the best name in paper.
Who want to make Westvaco the best company to do business with.
That's one way to do it.
Come to think of it, it's about the only way.

WESTVACO

Congratulations on the successful completion of your high school curriculum. You have passed a most vital and important phase of preparation for your future.

Your standard of living, your position of the life of your community and your economic security may well depend on the amount of education you take with you when you seek employment.

Farewell

And so we must part and say good-by.

We look back on our years spent together with a tear and a smile, knowing that much good has been our way, but that the best is still to come.

Yet we are grateful that our lives have touched, and that we have had the chance to know each other and to become a part of each other.

... And let today embrace the past with remembrance and the future with longing.
